

Ellipse University

What It Does

- Tracks education and training accomplishments for each associate.
- Incorporates results for Grace Hill and allows for tracking of other educational tracts.
- Provides a reporting platform that allows each associate to develop a transcript of their education accomplishments.

What It Does For Me

- Streamlines the process of tracking each associate's education tracts. Offers the tools to ensure that all associates are properly trained and have completed all necessary trainings.
- Promotes a sense of accomplishment by providing each associate with a record of their education experience while at your company.

Does the idea of figuring out who needs training on what topics make your head spin?

OVERVIEW

Develop your own Learning Management System specific for your company. Integrate education components from Grace Hill and other sources to develop an education plan for your associates. Track training and education to allow each associate to build his or her "transcript" during his or her tenure at your company. Associates can track their education tracks that can be incorporated into a succession plan by offering rewards or advancements based on merit and accomplishments.

Integrated. Track education accomplishments from various sources to ensure that each associate is properly trained. Avoid any potential gaps in the training process by compiling results from multiple providers.

Accomplishment. Give your associates the opportunity to present their accomplishments and review your company's commitment to their advancement through education.

Tenure. Develop a succession plan based on merit and education accomplishments. Develop a plan that promotes tenure by continually educating and engaging your associates.

Imagine the peace of mind and results knowing that everyone is equipped to do their job to the fullest!
