

Office of Cultural Affairs
CITY OF DALLAS

City of Dallas Office of Cultural Affairs
Public Art Program

What they're saying ...

Dallas Love Field Airport

"I looked to my left and was blown away by the beautiful new mural. It was, by far, the most original, appropriate and beautiful artwork in any medium I have seen in any airport in the world, and you know I have been through a lot of airports since resigning as an Astronaut from NASA ... It inspired both an appreciation of the details in nature, and a calm that is so contrary to my normal experience at an airport."

– Alan Bean, Apollo 12 Astronaut

Dallas Love Field Airport

"Passing through Love Field, I was enthralled with the Public Art. As a touring musician, I have visited many countries including their museums and am always fascinated with the airports such as Amsterdam's Schipol, Paris' DeGaulle, London's Heathrow and more. Love Field is marvelous -- so much so that my walk to the baggage claim was a wonderful, surprising adventure thanks to you and the Office of Cultural Affairs."

– Leena Quest, Musician, New York

Dallas Love Field Airport

*"Airports for Art Lovers: Though Most Flyers Just Rush By, Public Art Thrives at Airports, From Dutch Masters to a Giant Red Rabbit."– Scott McCarthy, The Wall Street Journal (Photos of Sherry Owens' sculpture, Back in a Moment, and Dixie Friend Gay's mosaic, North Texas Sunrise, were included in national article about public art at airports.)*

Dallas Love Field Airport

"I just had the good fortune of having a bit of extra time to look at the art at Love Field. I was delighted by your art installation of North Texas Sunrise.... As a gal who lived in Austin for several years but have been away for about 10, your work made all the good stuff that I experienced while here in Texas come floating back from my memory banks! Thanks much.... It was great fun. ... Thanks and keep dreaming!"

- Sara Wasson, former Austin resident